"GET OUT MONDAY AND VOTE," IS YOUR DUTY

FINAL APPEAL IS MADE IN CONTEST FOR SENATORSHIP

9 REPUBLICANS, 3 FARMER-LABOR, 2 DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES

HOT CONTEST ON FOR POST LEFT VACANT BY DEATH OF KNUTE NELSON

(By United Press)

St. Paul, June 16.—Final tirades of the senatorial campaign and one last big appeal to the voters to "get out Monday and vote" were scheduled today.

Fourteen men will line up at the polls Monday for three nominations.

There are nine republicans, three farmer-labor and two democratic candidates seeking the post left vacant in the United States senate by the death of Knute Nelson.

Administration republicans feel more confident today than at any time in the early stages of the campaign thus far. That President Harding feels certain Governor Preus will be the republican nominee was evidenced by an announcement today that he will take part in the campaign after the primary on Monday.

Supporters of Judge Oscar Hallam were making desperate last minute efforts to get out a big vote. The apparent indifference was responsible for a fear akin to panic in Hallam headquarters here.

Governor Preus is credited with having an organization following of around 100,000. If the republicans do not draw more than 200,000 at the primary it will be very easy for the governor, according to his friends.

Hot weather, the fact that thousands are vacationing, and the fact that the farmers are busier than usual in the fields is expected to hold down the poll. Then there is the general disinterest in the fight.

In the farmer-labor ranks Magnus Johnson feels the same way that Hallam forces feel about a light vote. In the first part of the campaign Johnson was figured as the farmer-labor nominee. A light vote in the country, however, would prove disastrous to him. The farmer-labor primary is not expected to draw more than 200,000 votes.

L. A. Fritsche, of New Ulm, wet candidate, and Charles A. Lindbergh, former Little Falls congressman, are expected to draw the heaviest vote from labor centers. Fritsche has gained noticeably in the last week, observers said.

Congressman Sidney Anderson is expected to carry the first congressional district, and it is a question whether this will hurt Governor Preus or Judge Hallam most. It is generally believed the governor will suffer more than Hallam if Anderson carries his district.

BIG TRACK AND FIELD MEET OPENS

Stag Field, Chicago, June 16.—The select of American collegiate athletes answered the starters' guns in the opening event of the collegiate track and field meet here this afternoon.

The track was in excellent condition as the first heat of the 120-yard high hurdles flashed over the cinders.

Three groups of records—world, intercollegiate and national collegiate A. A.—were endangered by 315 contestants. Six places were counted.

ROTARIANS PREPARE FOR ST. LOUIS SESSION

Minneapolis, June 16.—Twenty Minneapolis Rotarians will leave to attend the international convention at St. Louis, from Monday to Friday. The Minneapolis delegation will be in charge of Karl De Laitre, president. The Rotary International now consists of 1,499 clubs, established in 27 countries. The total membership is 30,000. Delegates from clubs of many foreign countries are expected to attend the convention.

Dr. Roy Williams Shoots Into the Hall of Fame

CLOSE STUDY OF U. S. SHIP RUM OFFER URGED

London, June 16.—Commenting on the American proposal for a reciprocal agreement covering ship liquor and rum smuggling, the Morning Post yesterday expressed the hope that the British government will scrutinize the suggestion very carefully. "We have become painfully aware that the American liquor laws are being used to damage our shipping," says the newspaper. It also calls attention to "the continual raising of the American customs against British goods, to say nothing of irritating incidents like the recent interference with our cotton trade."

STORE OWNER AND WIFE FOUND DEAD

COUSIN AND ROOMER OF SID ALLAWAY, ST. LOUIS, HELD FOR QUESTIONING

St. Louis, Mo., June 16.—Sid Allaway, 39, confectionery store proprietor, and his wife were found slain in their rooms above the store here today.

Both had been shot to death. Hammie Shane, 25, Allaway's cousin, and a roomer in their home, was held for questioning. Police said that when they arrived Shane, with blood in his clothes, was found in a dark room adjoining that in which the bodies lay.

Authorities said Shane resisted arrest, pleaded with them to kill him, and then tried to commit suicide in jail. He was removed to a hospital under guard. He told authorities that Mrs. Allaway summoned him during the night and told him her husband had been killed and then while he was in the room she was mysteriously shot.

Two pistols, still warm, were found in the house. Shane is from Haiti, Mo.

POSSIBLE DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENTIAL TICKET

French Lick, Ind., June 16.—It would not be surprising to Indiana democratic leaders if the next presidential ticket read this way:

For President—Samuel M. Ralston, of Indiana.

For Vice President—Royal Copeland of New York.

Friends of Ralston are working quietly but energetically for his nomination as head of the next ticket, and today word reached here from headquarters that although he might not be prevailed upon to accept the senatorial nomination from this district he would be willing to offer his services as presiding officer of the upper house of congress.

MINNEAPOLIS POLICE CHIEF RESIGNED TODAY

Minneapolis, June 16.—Chief of Police A. C. Jensen resigned today. In a letter to Mayor George E. Leach he refused to accept another two-year appointment because of continued unpleasantness during the two-year term just ended.

The chief was recently tried for alleged malfeasance and non-feasance in office. Although cleared of the charges he will resign. However, he asked to be returned to his former position as captain of police, saying the life of chief is too strenuous.

Hines Calls Conference On Veterans Hospitals

Washington, June 16.—United States Veterans hospital are to be made models for the world, Director F. T. Hines of the veterans bureau said yesterday in announcing a conference here Monday of the commanding medical officers of all veterans hospitals in the country. Elimination of temporary buildings, establishment of uniformity of treatment wiping out of regional lines and a program of establishing hospitals in the future on the basis of actual needs will be considered at the conference.

A. STAMBOULISKY IN TEARS, SURRENDERS, SHOT BY PEASANTS

"YOU BETRAYED ME THE SAME AS JUDAS DID CHRIST," HE SAID

DEATH CAME NEAR THE LITTLE VILLAGE OF HIS BIRTH AND CHILDHOOD

(By United Press)

London, June 16.—"You betrayed me the same as Judas betrayed Jesus." With these words Alexander Stamboulisky, ex-premier of Bulgaria, surrendered to a force of peasants whom he had regarded as friends.

A few hours later he was lying dead riddled with bullets from the rifles of his own followers who were trying to rescue him.

Dramatic details of Stamboulisky's capture reached here today in press dispatches.

It was reported that Stamboulisky had aspired to be king of Bulgaria in the place of King Boris, and this was one of the reasons why they joined forces with those who overthrew him.

After the coup against Stamboulisky in which the Bulgarian army lined up with his enemies, the premier fled under guard. While passing through villages he tried to enlist enough troops to get together a sufficient force to be able to march on Sofia, the capital. However, he was unsuccessful in this, and at last driven to concealment. Emerging from his hiding place disguised as a wool merchant, he entered the village of Golak.

The mayor—one of his followers—recognized him and summoned peasant guards, whom Stamboulisky also had known as his allies.

"You are to consider yourself under arrest," said the mayor to the ex-premier.

It was then that Stamboulisky made the bitter exclamation, "You have betrayed me."

He desired to give himself up to higher authorities than the mayor of the little village and asked and secured permission to telegraph Professor Zankof, the foreign minister and acting premier of the new government to whom he surrendered. He also telegraphed the commander of the Zankof troops who were near the village, asking that a guard be sent.

When the soldiers arrived, Stamboulisky requested to be allowed to return for an hour to his native village of Slavovitz which was only a few miles away. He wanted to get his baggage, he said.

Enroute to the town there was a rattle of shots and the party was attacked by a band of peasants. The troops fled. Stamboulisky was liberated, but his joy lasted only a moment. The troops took a short cut and ambushed the peasant band, discharging a volley. Stamboulisky was killed during the fight that followed. While he was in the thick of the fight it is believed a bullet from the guns of his own followers killed him. Death occurred on a short distance from his native village where he had played as a boy. The troops then dispersed the peasants and proceeded to town, where they searched the house.

OFFICIAL CONFIRMATION STAMBOULISKY'S DEATH

Washington, June 16.—The state department today received official confirmation from the American legation at Sofia of the killing of former Premier Stamboulisky of Bulgaria.

Most Insured Woman

Mrs. Marshall Field, III, wife of the scion of the Chicago family, who is called the most insured woman in the world, her policies amounting to $2,000,000, distributed among 24 companies.

FLOOD WATERS WHICH MENACED OKLAHOMA ARE RECEDING TODAY

(By United Press)

Oklahoma City, Okla., June 16.—Flood water, which has menaced Oklahoma for the last week, began to recede today.

Damage estimated at thousands of dollars was caused when torrential rains in Kansas and Oklahoma sent the streams in this section over their banks, inundating rich farming lands and flooding homes in the lowlands.

Reports here indicated that the Arkansas river was still on the rampage in Arkansas but little additional damage was expected to be caused. In the vicinity of Fort Smith and Little Rock farm lands have been flooded and considerable other property damage done.

TWO SOLUTIONS RAIL PROBLEMS

PRES. WILLARD OF BALTIMORE & OHIO MAKES EXTENDED STATEMENT

(Copyright 1923 by United Press)

Washington, June 15.—L. C. Willard, president of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad today confirmed the statement by the United Press yesterday that the country's railroads would present two solutions of their own for the transportation problems to offset both the administration consolidation plan and the progressive demand for more stringent control by congress.

In regard to rights, Willard asserted that "the railway problem is very rapidly solving itself under the terms of the existing transportation act", and declared if the present law is allowed to stand the railroads answer to demands for changes in the law will be:

1. A record of more effective service than ever before in the country's history.

2. Lower rates than those charged anywhere else in the world. "Personally, I am quite confident," said Willard, "that if the transportation act of 1920 is left in its present form for a reasonable period, the railroads will be able to satisfactorily overcome the difficulties brought about by the war."

"It is apparent * * * that the war time changes which existed a short time since have practically disappeared and that the efforts which the railroads are making to put their existing equipment in the best possible condition, together with large purchases of new equipment, should, and I believe, will enable them to meet the transportation requirements of the coming fall in a manner that will be generally satisfactory."

GOLD SUPPLY AS CAMPAIGN ARGUMENT

Washington, June 16.—America's last supply of gold—nearly 50 per cent of all there is in the world—will be fought over in the next political campaign as two contending schools of thought ask public approval of their proposed "gold policy."

One action will ask the public to approve heavy exports of American gold on the grounds that to keep it endangers the financial supremacy of the United States and the prosperity of the farmers and business.

The other group will demand that the people insist that the gold be kept. This group will charge that the opponents of this policy are trying to enrich Europe at the expense of the United States.

SEVEN PLANES LEFT SCOTT FIELD TODAY

Scott Field, Belleville, Ill., June 15.—The seven planes flying from Selfridge Field, Michigan, to San Antonio, Texas left Scott Field at 7:45 this morning on their trip south. Excellent weather favored the flyers.

CLAIMS VETERANS ARE STUNG IN LAND DEALS

(By United Press)

Minneapolis, June 16.—Charges that disabled soldiers who purchased farm lands through the Veterans Service were "stung" were made today by C. F. McKenzie, who will put the case before the Disabled Veterans convention June 25.

McKenzie made his charges before the veterans committee today. He alleged that disabled veterans bought land in the Moose Lake colony for $100 an acre which proved to be stump, marsh, and rock land of no particular value. The veterans were unable to "get out from under," he said, for fear that they will lose their compensation.

'DAWN TO DARK' PATH FINDERS

AIRPLANE CRASHED TO GROUND AND FLIGHT IS RESUMED LATER

(By United Press)

Philadelphia, Mo., June 16.—Lieutenant Russell L. Maughan today abandoned his test flight for his proposed "dawn to dark" transcontinental flight and was preparing to return east. His airplane, which fell here yesterday, was a mass of wreckage and had to be hauled away on wagons. The aviator was unhurt.

Resumes Flight at Belleville, Ill.

Belleville, Ill., June 16.—Lieut. Russell Maughan resumed his flight to map out for his "dawn to dark" cross-continental flight here today.

Maughan arrived here from Philadelphia, Mo., where his machine crashed. He obtained another plane from Scott Field and hopped off westward a few minutes after noon.

MORE INVESTIGATIONS DEFER RATE INCREASE

(By United Press)

Washington, June 16.—Pending further investigation, the Interstate Commerce Commission today suspended from June 18 until October 16 the operation of certain proposed increases of one-half per cent per hundred pounds in the freight rates on fresh meats from the upper Mississippi valley crossing and related point to eastern destinations.

HOT WEATHER CAUSES 1 DEATH

(By United Press)

Minneapolis, June 16.—With the coming of hot weather one death was announced today by authorities. Harvey Parkinson, 75, who collapsed on the street Thursday, died last night in General Hospital. He had been a resident of Minneapolis for 43 years.

J. E. Harker, professional, of Minneapolis; J. E. Dickey, professional, Minneapolis.

Many at the Traps

One hundred shooters were at the traps yesterday. A feature attracting much interest was the shooting of Mrs. S. S. Johnson of Minneapolis. She had not shot for years, but was prevailed upon to enter and broke 81 out of 100 targets.

Many State Champions There

The Breezy Point state shoot is a notable one for it has brought here champions from seven states, being: Mark Arle, of Champaign, Illinois.

Frank Troch of Vancouver, Washington, a world famous shot who has been state champion so long he forgot when he first acquired the title. Sam Sharman, of Salt Lake City, Utah.

A. H. Luke, of Hampton, Iowa.

CRUDE OIL FIRE AT PITTSBURGH, $500,000 LOSS

ATLANTIC REFINERY COMPANY CONFLAGRATION STILL RAGING FURIOUSLY

FIREMEN FEAR SPREAD OF FLAMES, 6 TANKS OF OIL BLOWN UP

(By United Press)

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 16.—The crude oil fire which has burned in the Atlantic Refinery company's yards causing $500,000 damage was still burning furiously today, despite desperate efforts of scores of firemen.

Firemen fear that the flames will spread.

Six tanks of crude oil blew up, spilling their contents over the entire plant.

A seventh tank, the largest in the yards, was redhot and burning furiously. It was feared that it will buckle and result in further spread of the flames.

Two of the tanks near the ones burning cannot be emptied owing to defective pumps.

The fire started late yesterday when one of the crude oil tanks buckled. For a time the fire appeared confined to the one tank but the others soon buckled with a roar.

Fifteen firemen have been injured thus far. They are trying to save a gas reservoir containing 100,000 gallons, ignition of which would probably threaten property for miles around. Families living nearby were forced from their homes and took refuge on neighboring hill sides, sleeping there for the night. Thousands came from all sections of the city to watch the fire from the hills.

Firemen Believed Trapped in Ruins

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 16.—A number of firemen are believed trapped this afternoon while fighting a blaze at Lawrenceville flat of the Atlantic Refinery Company after an oil tank which had been burning for some time buckled and threw burning fuel high into the air for a distance of two blocks.

Two loud explosions followed immediately, and a general alarm was sounded, bringing out all the available fire-fighting apparatus in the city.

The fire appeared to be spreading. It was believed a number of firemen were trapped by the two explosions, although this could not be confirmed owing to the intense heat and dense smoke which prevented other firemen from getting close to the burning tank.

BROKERAGE HOUSE IN BIG FAILURE

(By United Press)

New York, June 16.—Announcement was made today of the failure of Knauth, Hachod & Kuhne, brokerage, a member of the New York Stock Exchange.

The bankruptcy petition shows the firm owes $11,000,000.

The petition declared the firm's assets is composed of stocks, bonds and other property to the value of $11,000,000, balancing the liabilities.

EXONERATED OF EXTORTION CHARGE

(By United Press)

Milwaukee, June 16.—Winnifred C. Zabel, district attorney of Milwaukee county for 10 years, today was exonerated of charges of attempted extortion and conspiracy contained in an indictment returned by the county grand jury several months ago. This was the verdict of Judge Fred Beklinger, Oshkosh, who announced the decision in the case just before noon.

A. STAMBOULISKY IN TEARS, SURRENDERS, SHOT BY PEASANTS

"YOU BETRAYED ME THE SAME AS JUDAS DID CHRIST," HE SAID

DEATH CAME NEAR THE LITTLE VILLAGE OF HIS BIRTH AND CHILDHOOD

(By United Press)
London, June 16.—"You betrayed me the same as Judas betrayed Jesus." With these words Alexander Stamboulisky, ex-premier of Bulgaria, surrendered to a force of peasants whom he had regarded as friends.

BRAINERD MAN HAS 99 HITS OFF 100 TARGETS FRIDAY

SHOOTS FIRST LEG OF THE STATE CHAMPIONSHIP TOURNAMENT AS HIGH GUN

FRED MCKAY, MINNEAPOLIS, WINS DIAMOND BADGE IN SENSATIONAL MANNER

Breezy Point Lodge, June 16.—Shooting of last leg, 100 targets, of the state championship event is now in progress at the State Championship Trapshooting Tournament. It got well under way at 11 a. m.

Complete winners in the various classes have been announced: Class A, winner Dave Fauskee, of Worthington, with 98.

Class B, winner L. Hezzlewood Minneapolis, with 98.

Class C, winner J. W. Guthrie of Aurora, with 94.

Class D, winner J. C. Farnham, of Minneapolis with 85.

Tonight, the steak dinner and smoker tendered by Captain William H. Fawcett in honor of the 1923 Minnesota State Trapshooting champions, to be followed by an informal ball in the pavilion.

Breezy Point Lodge, June 16.—A Brainerd doctor, Dr. Roy Williams, shot his way into the hall of fame at the big State Championship Trapshooting Tournament, when he broke 99 out of 100 targets in the first leg of the state championship shoot, of which 100 targets were shot Friday and 100 targets are being shot today.

Scoring 98 were Captain William H. Fawcett of Breezy Point Lodge, Harold Kalland, of Brainerd, Dave Fauskee, Worthington, E. L. Hezzlewood, Minneapolis, George A. Eastman, Minneapolis, G. M. Deck, Minneapolis.

The final winner will be announced as soon as the 100 targets are shot today. If Dr. Williams shoots as good today as yesterday, he will undoubtedly win the state championship.

Scoring 96 were H. Runningen of Ashby.

E. J. Goward of Aitkin.

H. W. Freeman of Wadena.

Scoring 95 were A. C. White of Brainerd.

J. S. Frink of Worthington.

Ell Maland of Long Prairie.

Diamond Badge Winner

In the Diamond Badge contest, open to Minnesota shooters only, 26 singles and 12 pairs, Fred McKay of Minneapolis, won in sensational manner.

In the contest McKay tied at 46 with H. W. McGinnis, also of Minneapolis. Then came a shoot off of 15 singles and each man broke 14.

In breaking 5 pair following, McKay gained the ultimate victory by breaking 7 out of 10 and McGinnis edged up close with six out of ten.

G. Eastman of Minneapolis and A. Kothe of Aitkin each broke 45.

E. J. Goward of Aitkin, who won the Diamond Badge last year, did it with a score of 42.

At 160 Targets
High men at 160 targets yesterday were six shooters, each breaking 157, being: A. L. Chezik of Port, N. D.; E. L. Hezzlewood, Minneapolis; A. H. Luke, Hampton, Iowa; Mark Arie, Champaign, Ill.; Frank Hughes, Moberg, S. D.; J. R. Jahn, professional, Long Grove, Iowa.

Breaking 155 each were Sam Sharman of Salt Lake City, Utah and Dave Fauskee of Worthington.

155 each were H. Kalland of Brainerd, who has been doing some wonderful shooting every day and spreading the fame of Brainerd's Gun club; A. E. McGahey of Minot, N. D.

154 each were Captain William H. Fawcett of Breezy Point Lodge; J. S. Frink of Worthington; F. S. Cook of Eau Claire, Wis.; George Eastman of Minneapolis; G. M. Deck of Wadena; H. R. Runningen of Ashby;

CLAIMS VETERANS ARE STUNG IN LAND DEALS

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, June 16.—Charges that disabled soldiers who purchased farm lands through the Veterans Service were "stung" were made today by C. F. McKenzie, who will put the case before the Disabled Veterans convention June 25.

McKenzie made his charges before the veterans committee today. He alleged that disabled veterans bought land in the Moose Lake colony for $100 an acre which proved to be stump, marsh, and rock land of no particular value. The veterans were unable to "get out from under," he said, for fear that they will lose their compensation.

'DAWN TO DARK' PATH FINDERS

AIRPLANE CRASHED TO GROUND AND FLIGHT IS RESUMED LATER

(By United Press)
Philadelphia, Mo., June 16.—Lieutenant Russell L. Maughan today abandoned his test flight for his proposed "dawn to dark" transcontinental flight and was preparing to return east. His airplane, which fell here yesterday, was a mass of wreckage and had to be hauled away on wagons. The aviator was unhurt.

Resumes Flight at Belleville, Ill.

Belleville, Ill., June 16.—Lieut. Russell Maughan resumed his flight to map out for his "dawn to dark" cross-continental flight here today.

Maughan arrived here from Philadelphia, Mo., where his machine crashed. He obtained another plane from Scott Field and hopped off westward a few minutes after noon.

MORE INVESTIGATIONS DEFER RATE INCREASE

(By United Press)
Washington, June 16.—Pending further investigation, the Interstate Commerce Commission today suspended from June 18 until October 16 the operation of certain proposed increases of one-half per cent per hundred pounds in the freight rates on fresh meats from the upper Mississippi valley crossing and related point to eastern destinations.

HOT WEATHER CAUSES 1 DEATH

(By United Press)
Minneapolis, June 16.—With the coming of hot weather one death was announced today by authorities. Harvey Parkington, 75, who collapsed on the street Thursday, died last night in General hospital. He had been a resident of Minneapolis for 43 years.

J. E. Harker, professional, of Minneapolis; J. E. Dickey, professional, Minneapolis.

Many at the Traps

One hundred shooters were at the traps yesterday. A feature attracting much interest was the shooting of Mrs. S. S. Johnson of Minneapolis. She had not shot for years, but was prevailed upon to enter and broke 81 out of 100 targets.

Many State Champions There

The Breezy Point state shoot is a notable one for it has brought here champions from seven states, being: Mark Arie, of Champaign, Illinois; Frank Troch of Vancouver, Washington, a world famous shot who has been state champion so long he forgot when he first acquired the title. Sam Sharman, of Salt Lake City, Utah.

A. H. Luke, of Hampton, Iowa. Frank Hughes, of Moberg, S. D., last year's champion.

Dave Fauskee, Worthington, Minnesota.

A. L. Chezik, of Port, N. D. Coupled with these are noted professionals such as Fred Gilbert of Spirit Lake, Iowa; J. R. Jahn, Long Grove, Iowa; George Trent, Sr., Brainerd; J. R. Graham, Chicago and others.

CRUDE OIL FIRE AT PITTSBURGH, $500,000 LOSS

ATLANTIC REFINERY COMPANY CONFLAGRATION STILL RAGING FURIOUSLY

FIREMEN FEAR SPREAD OF FLAMES, 6 TANKS OF OIL BLOWN UP

(By United Press)
Pittsburgh, Pa., June 16.—The crude oil fire which has burned in the Atlantic Refinery company's yards causing $500,000 damage was still burning furiously today, despite desperate efforts of scores of firemen.

Firemen fear that the flames will spread. Six tanks of crude oil blew up, spilling their contents over the entire plant.

A seventh tank, the largest in the yards, was redhot and burning furiously. It was feared that it will buckle and result in further spread of the flames.

Two of the tanks near the ones burning cannot be emptied owing to defective pumps.

The fire started late yesterday when one of the crude oil tanks buckled. For a time the fire appeared confined to the one tank but the others soon buckled with a roar.

Fifteen firemen have been injured thus far. They are trying to save a gas reservoir containing 100,000 gallons, ignition of which would probably threaten property for miles around. Families living nearby were forced from their homes and took refuge on neighboring hill sides, sleeping there for the night. Thousands came from all sections of the city to watch the fire from the hills.

Firemen Believed Trapped in Ruins

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 16.—A number of firemen are believed trapped this afternoon while fighting a blaze at Lawrenceville flat of the Atlantic Refinery Company after an oil tank which had been burning for some time buckled and threw burning fuel high into the air for a distance of two blocks.

Two loud explosions followed immediately, and a general alarm was sounded, bringing out all the available fire-fighting apparatus in the city.

The fire appeared to be spreading. It was believed a number of firemen were trapped by the two explosions, although this could not be confirmed owing to the intense heat and dense smoke which prevented other firemen from getting close to the burning tank.

BROKERAGE HOUSE IN BIG FAILURE

(By United Press)
New York, June 16.—Announcement was made today of the failure of Knauth, Hachod & Kuhne, brokerage, a member of the New York Stock Exchange.

The bankruptcy petition shows the firm owes $11,000,000.

The petition declared the firm's assets is composed of stocks, bonds and other property to the value of $11,000,000, balancing the liabilities.

EXONERATED OF EXTORTION CHARGE

(By United Press)
Milwaukee, June 16.—Winnifred C. Zabel, district attorney of Milwaukee county for 10 years, today was exonerated of charges of attempted extortion and conspiracy contained in an indictment returned by the county grand jury several months ago. This was the verdict of Judge Fred Beglinger, Oshkosh, who announced the decision in the case just before noon.

Rathert-Stedfeld Nuptials

At seven o'clock on Thursday evening took place the marriage of Minna Rathert, only daughter of Rev. and Mrs. F. C. Rathert, to Chris Stedfeld, of Staples. The ceremony was performed by the father of the bride in Zion Evangelical Lutheran church at Main and Broadway.

The church was decorated with greens and wild flowers, forming a beautiful setting for the bridal party of seven as they entered in the sunset hour. The bride was attired in a lovely gown of brochet India silk, fashioned from the wedding gown worn by her mother more than twenty-five years before. Attending the bride were the Kirsch sisters, two of her long-time friends and intimates. Miss Huldah, as maid of honor, appeared in a gown of Canton crepe of honeydew shade, while that of her sister Emma was of a delicate orchid. All three carried bouquets of roses—the bride the usual bridal white, her attendants bouquets in pink. Little Helen Dorothy Graft preceded the bride with a basket of white daisies and pink sweet peas. As dainty flower-girl in white she took her part most charmingly.

The groom was assisted by Walter H. Rathert, of Cass Lake, and by his brother, Fred Stedfeld of Staples.

After the ceremony a wedding supper was served in the parsonage to the nearest relatives of bride and groom, after which the newly married couple left by motor for a honeymoon at a near lake resort. They will make their future home in Staples.

ting anything back, it follows that this arrangement is of great benefit to the rural communities, and no better system of securing good roads in the country districts could be devised according to our way of thinking.

"Some complaint is heard now and then because this money is spent upon trunk highways, which means the roads that 'go somewhere', and therefore the farmers residing in remote places get very little benefit, but it must be remembered that the 'through' roads must be built first if there is to be orderly construction. Any other course would be as ridiculous as for a railroad to build its sidetracks first and come along later with the main line.

"It is hardly to be expected that a department of such magnitude as the one presided over by Mr. Babcock could function without some adverse criticism, but we feel that all fair-minded people will agree that remarkable progress toward a good roads system has been made in this state since the adoption of amendment No. 1. And though we do not claim Mr. Babcock to be infallible in his judgment of what is best in the way of road building, we have yet to hear anything better proposed by those who oppose him."

COUNTY BONDS FOR ROADS

Making it plain that only motor vehicle taxes and federal aid can be used for improvement and maintenance of state trunk or Eabcock highways and that a large part of the auto taxes are paid but none are used in the big cities, the Thief River Falls Tribune commends recent authorization by the Pennington county commissioners of an issue of highway reimbursement bonds. The Tribune continues:

"Since the big cities pay a major portion of these taxes without getting anything back, it follows that this arrangement is of great benefit to the rural communities, and no better system of securing good roads in the country districts could be devised according to our way of thinking.

"Some complaint is heard now and then because this money is spent upon trunk highways, which means the roads that 'go somewhere', and therefore the farmers residing in remote places get very little benefit, but it must be remembered that the 'through' roads must be built first if there is to be orderly construction. Any other course would be as ridiculous as for a railroad to build its sidetracks first and come along later with the main line.

"It is hardly to be expected that a department of such magnitude as the one presided over by Mr. Babcock could function without some adverse criticism, but we feel that all fair-minded people will agree that remarkable progress toward a good roads system has been made in this state since the adoption of amendment No. 1. And though we do not claim Mr. Babcock to be infallible in his judgment of what is best in the way of road building, we have yet to hear anything better proposed by those who oppose him."

Understand The Spinograph

The other day a party called and wanted "a dose of the spinograph." The spinograph is not a medicine. It is an X-ray machine that takes a picture of your spinal column and thereby enables the Chiropractor to give you a very accurate adjustment of a vertebrae that may be subluxated, but the spinograph has no curative properties whatever. Have an X-ray picture taken and learn how your spinal column lines up. On that alignment depends your health. Do it now before disease forces you to later.

Understand The Spinograph

The other day a party called and wanted "a dose of the spinograph." The spinograph is not a medicine. It is an X-ray machine that takes a picture of your spinal column and thereby enables the Chiropractor to give you a very accurate adjustment of a vertebrae that may be subluxated, but the spinograph has no curative properties whatever. Have an X-ray picture taken and learn how your spinal column lines up. On that alignment depends your health. Do it now before disease forces you to later.

PREUS FOR SENATOR

EARLY after the death of Senator Knute Nelson, the Brainerd Dispatch announced itself as favoring Governor J. A. O. Preus as his successor.

The Dispatch for years, from the earliest days, had been a staunch friend of the late Senator Nelson, who so firmly united the republican party in this state that there never was a contest when it came to re-electing him.

We believe Governor Preus is a worthy successor of his mentor and guide. It is not alone from sentimental reasons that we favor the governor, but we are assured he has the mental ability, that grasp of state affairs, that wide outlook of international relations, that tireless energy and supreme devotion in furthering all matters affecting the grand old state of Minnesota, that we are safe in entrusting the senatorship to him.

True, he is a young man, but he has courage, ability and has proven his worth in service for the state of Minnesota. This is an age of young men and of advancing young men who have made good.

We are interested in the deep waterway from the Great Lakes to the sea, and Governor Preus seems best fitted to carry on that undertaking and bring it to a successful conclusion.

A conscientious governor, working for the best interests of the state as a whole, is it possible to find a man who can better represent all Minnesota in the senate?

As an executive secretary, as our state's insurance commissioner, as state auditor and as governor he has done his level best. A man's record is his best recommendation as to his future course, and The Dispatch believes that with Jake Preus as senator the state of Minnesota will continue one of the bright stars in the grand constellation that makes up the greatest nation in all the world's history.

A BENEVOLENT DESPOTISM

WHEN a government is without the power to control the behavior of its nationals and citizens of other nations are endangered within its borders by the unrestrained lawlessness of criminal elements, it is necessary for other governments to protect their nationals, and to do this it is sometimes wise to consider the setting up of a benevolent despotism.

The American Association of China and the American Chamber of Commerce in that country are asking that something of this kind be attempted now. The Chinese government is unable to control the lawless elements, and Americans and other foreigners living in China conclude that conditions are dangerous and are comparable to the period just previous to the Boxer rebellion. The Americans in China are asking that the government of the United States cooperate with the British government in an effort to control conditions so that the lives and property of foreigners may be safeguarded.

When such demands are made upon a government by the citizens who are engaged in business in other lands, people are sometimes inclined to think that such demands are made for the purpose of having the home government stand behind the enterprises of its citizens in foreign countries. To a certain extent this is right and proper. Citizens of the United States who are engaged in lawful business in foreign lands are entitled to the protection of the government at home, and when their lives are threatened by lawless and uncontrolled elements in a foreign country, whose government is unable to cope with the situation, citizens of the United States have a right to appeal for the protection of their own government. But there have been times when small matters have been raised to the status of international quarrels through foreign interference in the affairs of another country. Small disorders have been used in such cases as an excuse for the homeland to step in to protect its nationals, and the motive has not always been protection, it has sometimes been commercial advantage.

There is every reason to believe that Americans in China are endangered at this time and that something must be done to protect them from the threat that comes from the lawless elements in China, which the Chinese government through its weakness is unable to restrain. In such a case it may be necessary to set up a benevolent despotism. Law and order must be secured by some power equal to the task of securing it. America may have to take a hand in Chinese affairs and if this happens it is to be hoped that the despotism may be benevolent. The United States stands high in the esteem of the better elements in China today and if this country loses this esteem China's respect for western civilization will be destroyed and the future will be fraught with danger.

The better people in China are in favor of the intervention of the governments of the United States and Great Britain and it is to be hoped that these governments will act in time and before the conditions develop into an explosion of the character of the Boxer rebellion.

ICE CREAM and nails attract tourists. After sampling the wares of the soda fountain they look over the contents of the hardware store. Perhaps Uncle Sam requires that they erect a mail box in front of the cottage.

THE announcement that coal is reaching the docks in large quantities doesn't create much interest in June, but an announcement to the contrary in October creates concern. The weather has a lot to do with life.

PRESIDENT HARDING suggests that many people in America cannot sing the national anthem. Alas, how many! Out of every hundred possibly ninety-three would have to plead guilty.

IF Brainerd had an auditorium there might be a farmers' picnic in the winter when the farmers have time to attend.

The Disabled Soldier Settlement at Moose Lake, Minnesota

The U. S. Veterans' Bureau, C. D. Hibbard, District Manager, Minneapolis, has under its supervision about six hundred disabled soldiers who are taking vocational training in agriculture. These men plan to own and operate small farms of their own, the size of the farm depending largely upon the man's physical condition. To further this end, a number of them have formed farm colonies at several places in Minnesota. The largest of these settlements is at Moose Lake, Minnesota. There is one soldier colony in the United States that is larger. It is located in the Imperial Valley, in California, and has sixty-two men, whereas the Moose Lake settlement contains fifty-two men.

The settlement at Moose Lake differs from the ones at Orchard Gardens and Veteransville in that the men are not settled in one compact body composed exclusively of disabled men. These men have bought small farms, here and there, near the town, but among other farmers who have been settled there for years.

These soldier boys plan to engage in general farming, on a small scale, paying special attention to dairying and poultry raising. Their slogan is "forty acres, five cows, 500 hens and independence."

There are many advantages in the Moose Lake settlement. The land is partly cleared, and often has other improvements. The men are not segregated by themselves, nor are they isolated. They have simply become an integral part of an older and settled community of farmers, rather pioneers. There is already an established market for their products. This is particularly true of poultry products as this is a famous poultry raising region. Moose Lake is located about forty miles from Duluth "where sail meets rail" both leading to abundant markets in the large mining towns on the Mesabi Iron Range and the ports of the Great Lakes.

There are good roads, schools, rural mail delivery, churches, fraternal lodges, a Legion Post, and the neighborliness of older farmers to cheer and encourage them. It is worth a great deal to disabled men to become members of a thriving community right at the start, where social, religious, educational and other activities are on a going basis.

These men settled here because they were genuinely interested in farming and did not relish the idea of becoming just farm hands when they had completed their agricultural training. They would be obliged to become farm employees unless they owned land of their own.

They bought their small "one man" farms on the installment plan, making a small payment down, and a small monthly payment, usually $50. Buildings and equipment, except for $300 worth of the latter which is furnished them free by the U. S. Veterans' Bureau, is being procured on the same plan.

They are enabled to do this because the Veterans Bureau gives each man a maintenance allowance during the period of his training. This varies from $80 to $170 per month according to the location and the number of the man's dependents. By the time his training is finished he should have his property practically paid for and his farm producing an income. If he should have an unpaid balance, when his training is completed, it will be converted into a long time loan on his productive farm, and slowly amortized.

The selection, clearing, and cultivation of these farms is carefully supervised by experts from the Veterans' Bureau. And in order that these ex-service men may start herds of cattle and flocks of poultry, as well as continue to make improvements, they are not required to leave their farms to attend the agricultural school. On the contrary, the Veterans' Bureau has provided instruction for them on the project. There are two instructors who instruct the men in theory and in practice, right at their homes all the year round.

The Americans in China are asking that the government of the United States cooperate with the British government in an effort to control conditions so that the lives and property of foreigners may be safeguarded.

When such demands are made upon a government by the citizens who are engaged in business in other lands, people are sometimes inclined to think that such demands are made for the purpose of having the home government stand behind the enterprises of its citizens in foreign countries. To a certain extent this is right and proper. Citizens of the United States who are engaged in lawful business in foreign lands are entitled to the protection of the government at home, and when their lives are threatened by lawless and uncontrolled elements in a foreign country, whose government is unable to cope with the situation, citizens of the United States have a right to appeal for the protection of their own government. But there have been times when small matters have been raised to the status of international quarrels through foreign interference in the affairs of another country. Small disorders have been used in such cases as an excuse for the homeland to step in to protect its nationals, and the motive has not always been protection, it has sometimes been commercial advantage.

There is every reason to believe that Americans in China are endangered at this time and that something must be done to protect them from the threat that comes from the lawless elements in China, which the Chinese government through its weakness is unable to restrain. In such a case it may be necessary to set up a benevolent despotism. Law and order must be secured by some power equal to the task of securing it. America may have to take a hand in Chinese affairs and if this happens it is to be hoped that the despotism may be benevolent. The United States stands high in the esteem of the better elements in China today and if this country loses this esteem China's respect for western civilization will be destroyed and the future will be fraught with danger.

The better people in China are in favor of the intervention of the governments of the United States and Great Britain and it is to be hoped that these governments will act in time and before the conditions develop into an explosion of the character of the Boxer rebellion.

ICE CREAM and nails attract tourists. After sampling the wares of the soda fountain they look over the contents of the hardware store. Perhaps Uncle Sam requires that they erect a mail box in front of the cottage.

THE announcement that coal is reaching the docks in large quantities doesn't create much interest in June, but an announcement to the contrary in October creates concern. The weather has a lot to do with life.

PRESIDENT HARDING suggests that many people in America cannot sing the national anthem. Alas, how many! Out of every hundred possibly ninety-three would have to plead guilty.

IF Brainerd had an auditorium there might be a farmers' picnic in the winter when the farmers have time to attend.

The Disabled Soldier Settlement at Moose Lake, Minnesota

The U. S. Veterans' Bureau, C. D. Hibbard, District Manager, Minneapolis, has under its supervision about six hundred disabled soldiers who are taking vocational training in agriculture. These men plan to own and operate small farms of their own, the size of the farm depending largely upon the man's physical condition. To further this end, a number of them have formed farm colonies at several places in Minnesota. The largest of these settlements is at Moose Lake, Minnesota. There is one soldier colony in the United States that is larger. It is located in the Imperial Valley, in California, and has sixty-two men, whereas the Moose Lake settlement contains fifty-two men.

The settlement at Moose Lake differs from the ones at Orchard Gardens and Veteransville in that the men are not settled in one compact body composed exclusively of disabled men. These men have bought small farms, here and there, near the town, but among other farmers who have been settled there for years.

These soldier boys plan to engage in general farming, on a small scale, paying special attention to dairying and poultry raising. Their slogan is "forty acres, five cows, 500 hens and independence."

There are many advantages in the Moose Lake settlement. The land is partly cleared, and often has other improvements. The men are not segregated by themselves, nor are they isolated. They have simply become an integral part of an older and settled community of farmers, rather pioneers. There is already an established market for their products. This is particularly true of poultry products as this is a famous poultry raising region. Moose Lake is located about forty miles from Duluth "where sail meets rail" both leading to abundant markets in the large mining towns on the Mesabi Iron Range and the ports of the Great Lakes.

There are good roads, schools, rural mail delivery, churches, fraternal lodges, a Legion Post, and the neighborliness of older farmers to cheer and encourage them. It is worth a great deal to disabled men to become members of a thriving community right at the start, where social, religious, educational and other activities are on a going basis.

These men settled here because they were genuinely interested in farming and did not relish the idea of becoming just farm hands when they had completed their agricultural training. They would be obliged to become farm employees unless they owned land of their own.

They bought their small "one man" farms on the installment plan, making a small payment down, and a small monthly payment, usually $50. Buildings and equipment, except for $300 worth of the latter which is furnished them free by the U. S. Veterans' Bureau, is being procured on the same plan.

They are enabled to do this because the Veterans' Bureau gives each man a maintenance allowance during the period of his training. This varies from $80 to $170 per month according to the location and the number of the man's dependents. By the time his training is finished he should have his property practically paid for and his farm producing an income. If he should have an unpaid balance, when his training is completed, it will be converted into a long time loan on his productive farm, and slowly amortized.

The selection, clearing, and cultivation of these farms is carefully supervised by experts from the Veterans' Bureau. And in order that these ex-service men may start herds of cattle and flocks of poultry, as well as continue to make improvements, they are not required to leave their farms to attend the agricultural school. On the contrary, the Veterans' Bureau has provided instruction for them on the project. There are two instructors who instruct the man in theory and in practice, right at their homes all the year round.

Ethel Clayton at the Lyceum
"For the Defense," a new Paramount picture shown at the Lyceum theatre last night is undoubtedly Ethel Clayton's crowning achievement as a Paramount star. Miss Clayton portrays a highly emotional and dramatic role with gripping realism and unrivalled finesse.

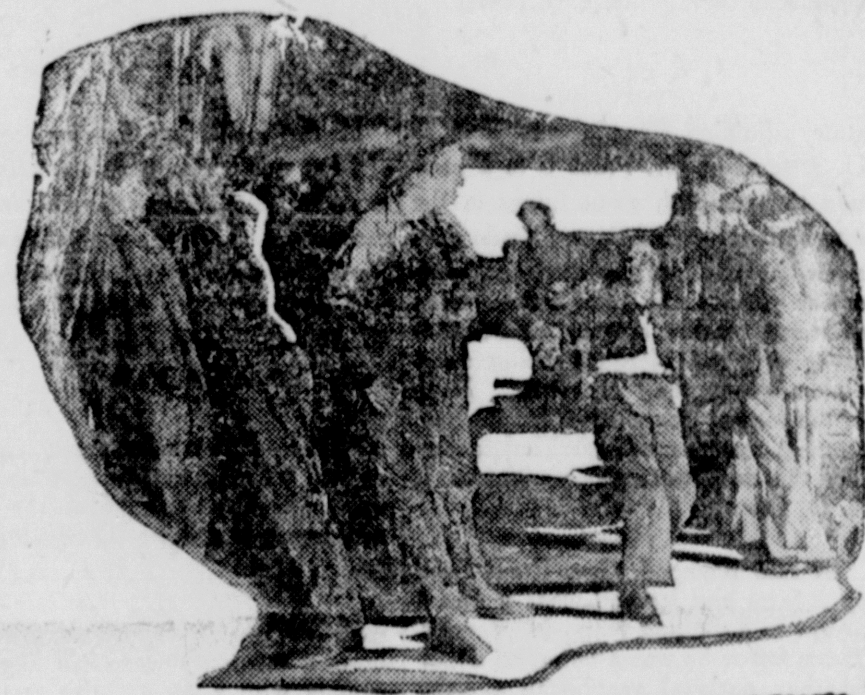

Anne Woodstock is the fiancée of a district attorney, played by Vernon Steele, and a patient of Dr. Kasimir, a Hindu physician and hypnotist, portrayed by Bertram Grassby. Hearing of her engagement, the Hindu, who has become madly infatuated with Anne, sends for her on a pretext, and subjects her to his hypnotic power. Next day he is found murdered in his offices while Anne remembers nothing of what happened.

One of the new "Leather Pushers" is on the same program, and will be shown again tonight.

This is the condition in which two Broadway favorites found themselves while encamped among the sand dunes near Oxnard, Cal., for the filming of George Melford's production of "Burning Sands," which will be the feature at the Lyceum theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

"A white tent on the desert, baths in a portable tub, and meals in a mess-tent is a little different from a theatre on Broadway, and a comfortable hotel a block from the stage door," said Jacqueline Logan, former New York Polies favorite, who has an important role in the picture, "but I like it!"

AT NEW PARK

Actors Live up to Traditions of
Whalemen in Battle With
Monster "Bull" Whale

"A dead whale or a stove boat."
This expression is, to the old-time of "Get Your Man" inspires them to a full realization of duty, and the fact that there can be no compromise. In other words the veteran whaleman knows only too well that in the game of whale hunting there can be only one of two outcomes. Either the mammal will smash their small boat or they will get His Majesty. As in the case of the famous body of men who patrol and make safe the vastness of the far Northwest, there can be no compromise. This is a tradition of the sea that has existed since time immemorial, and will continue so long as the whaling industry is pursued.

The dead whale or stove boat epigram is so popular, and at the same time so indelibly identified with the whaling industry that there was recently erected in the city of New Bedford, Mass., the acknowledged home of the industry, a statue in honor of the whaleman, which bears the famous inscription, and depicting a whaleman in a small boat in the act of hurling a harpoon.

In the old Quaker meeting house near New Bedford, tablets are hung in memory of departed whalemen, those heroes of the sea who have lost their life in the chase.

To perpetuate for all time the romance, thrills and adventure of the whaling industry, there was recently produced by Elmer Clifton and a party of New Bedford citizens, a super-special motion picture which is released through the W. W. Hodgkinson Corporation. It is entitled "Down to the Sea in Ships," and is to be the feature attraction at the Park theatre tonight and Sunday. A graphic description is given of an industry, now nearly obsolete, but which 70 to 100 years ago thrived and proved the foundation for many a fortune.

It is not accidental that the Northern Pacific has, for years, been famous for its dining cars. To maintain supremacy in public favor has required devoted, talented, efficient service. It has required keen leadership, hard work, loyalty—and more; genius has been put in, and artistry, and culinary skill of high order.

The Northern Pacific is proud of its dining cars. It is proud of the men who operate them and the men who manage the department. They are men you would be proud of, too—friendly, hospitable, efficient, anxious to satisfy to the utmost every single guest.

Our dining cars do things not just "good enough" but the very best way in which they can be done. Note the silverware for example. It is not "just clean." It shines! Three times every day, whether used or not, every piece of silverware on each dining car is polished. Not just washed. Polished! The table linen is always clean. We do not cover over soiled cloths with skimpy "tops"; we remove soiled cloths and use full linen covers of finest quality.

So with the food. It is not just good food. It is as nearly perfect as human ability can produce and place before you. We are proud of every dish we serve because we know that the best effort and the best talent of our dining car department have gone into it.

SALE OF IRON ORE PROSPECTING PERMITS

Covering State Lands

Notice is hereby given that up to 10 o'clock A. M. on Aug. 13th, 1923, in the State Auditor's Office, State Capitol, Saint Paul, Minnesota, under the provisions of Chapter 412, Laws 1921, I will receive sealed bids for permits to prospect for iron ore on state lands or lands in which the state has an interest, except lands situated under the waters of any public lake or river. At said hour such sealed bids will be opened and permits awarded to the highest bidder.

All applications for permits must be accompanied by certified check made payable to the state treasurer in the sum of $50.00 for each mining unit applied for and be accompanied by a sealed bid setting forth the amount of royalty per ton the applicant proposes to pay to the state in case his bid for such permit be accepted and a mineral lease issued thereunder. Such sealed bids shall also be accompanied by a certified check payable to the state treasurer in the sum of $200.00 as a guarantee that the applicant will carry out and perform in good faith all his covenants and agreements set forth in the permit. The sealed bids shall have plainly marked on the envelope containing the same the name of the applicant, the date of the application, the date received by the State Auditor and class of mineral land involved. The bids shall be made in such manner only as to clearly indicate the amount intended to be offered, but no bid shall be accepted which does not equal or exceed the minimum royalty per ton as set forth in said Chapter 412.

The right to reject any and all bids is reserved to the State.

The limitations and requirements as to the purchasers of permits are as set forth in Sec. 5 and 6, of said Chap. 412, which sections are hereby referred to and made a part of this notice.

The general terms and conditions of permits and mining leases are as set forth in Sections 5, 6 and 7, of said Chap. 412, which sections are hereby referred to and made a part hereof.

Lists of lands showing classes and arrangements of mining units, together with blanks and general information covering the subject of permits and leases, including copies of said Chapter 412, Laws 1921, may be had at the office of the State Auditor, Saint Paul, Minnesota.

This is the condition in which two Broadway favorites found themselves, while encamped among the sand dunes near Oxnard, Cal., for the filming of George Melford's production of "Burning Sands," which will be the feature at the Lyceum theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

"A white tent on the desert, baths in a portable tub, and meals in a mess-tent is a little different from a theatre on Broadway, and a comfortable hotel a block from the stage door," said Jacqueline Logan, former New York Folies favorite, who has an important role in the picture, "but I like it!"

Actors Live up to Traditions of
Whalemen in Battle With
Monster "Bull" Whale

"A dead whale or a stove boat." This expression is, to the old-time of "Get Your Man" inspires them to a full realization of duty, and the fact that there can be no compromise. In other words the veteran whaleman knows only too well that in the game of whale hunting there can be only one of two outcomes. Either the mammal will smash their small boat or they will get His Majesty. As in the case of the famous body of men who patrol and make safe the vastness of the far Northwest, there can be no compromise. This is a tradition of the sea that has existed since time immemorial, and will continue so long as the whaling industry is pursued.

The dead whale or stove boat epigram is so popularly, and at the same time so indelibly identified with the whaling industry that there was recently erected in the city of New Bedford, Mass., the acknowledged home of the industry, a statue in honor of the whaleman, which bears the famous inscription, and depicting a whaleman in a small boat in the act of hurling a harpoon.

In the old Quaker meeting house near New Bedford, tablets are hung in memory of departed whalemen, those heroes of the sea who have lost their life in the chase.

To perpetuate for all time the romance, thrills and adventure of the whaling industry, there was recently produced by Elmer Clifton and a party of New Bedford citizens, a super-special motion picture which is released through the W. W. Hodkinson Corporation. It is entitled "Down to the Sea in Ships," and is to be the feature attraction at the Park theatre tonight and Sunday. A graphic description is given of an industry, now nearly obsolete, but which 70 to 100 years ago thrived and proved the foundation for many a fortune.

Dining Car Service Famously Good

It is not accidental that the Northern Pacific has, for years, been famous for its dining cars. To maintain supremacy in public favor has required devoted, talented, efficient service. It has required keen leadership, hard work, loyalty—and more; genius has been put in, and artistry, and culinary skill of high order.

The Northern Pacific is proud of its dining cars. It is proud of the men who operate them and the men who manage the department. They are men you would be proud of, too—friendly, hospitable, efficient, anxious to satisfy to the utmost every single guest.

Our dining cars do things not just "good enough" but the very best way in which they can be done. Note the silverware for example. It is not "just clean." It shines! Three times every day, whether used or not, every piece of silverware on each dining car is polished. Not just washed. Polished! The table linen is always clean. We do not cover over soiled cloths with skimpy "tops"; we remove soiled cloths and use full linen covers of finest quality.

So with the food. It is not just good food. It is as nearly perfect as human ability can produce and place before you. We are proud of every dish we serve because we know that the best effort and the best talent of our dining car department have gone into it.

SALE OF IRON ORE PROSPECTING PERMITS

Covering State Lands

Notice is hereby given that up to 10 o'clock A. M. on Aug. 13th, 1923, in the State Auditor's Office, State Capitol, Saint Paul, Minnesota, under the provisions of Chapter 412, Laws 1921, I will receive sealed bids for permits to prospect for iron ore on state lands or lands in which the state has an interest, except lands situated under the waters of any public lake or river. At said hour such sealed bids will be opened and permits awarded to the highest bidders.

All applications for permits must be accompanied by certified check made payable to the state treasurer in the sum of $50.00 for each mining unit applied for and be accompanied by a sealed bid setting forth the amount of royalty per ton the applicant proposes to pay to the state in case his bid for such permit be accepted and a mineral lease issued thereunder. Such sealed bids shall also be accompanied by a certified check payable to the state treasurer in the sum of $200.00 as a guarantee that the applicant will carry out and perform in good faith all his covenants and agreements set forth in the permit. The sealed bids shall have plainly marked on the envelope containing the same the name of the applicant, the date of the application, the date received by the State Auditor and class of mineral land involved. The bids shall be made in such manner only as minimum royalty per ton as set forth in said Chapter 412.

The right to reject any and all bids is reserved to the State.

The limitations and requirements as to the purchasers of permits are as set forth in Sec. 5 and 6, of said Chap. 412, which sections are hereby referred to and made a part of this notice.

The general terms and conditions of permits and mining leases are as set forth in Sections 5, 6 and 7, of said Chap. 412, which sections are hereby referred to and made a part hereof.

Lists of lands showing classes and arrangements of mining units, together with blanks and general information covering the subject of permits and leases, including copies of said Chapter 412, Laws 1921, may be had at the office of the State Auditor, Saint Paul, Minnesota.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT—Inserted for the benefit of J. A. O. Preus, Candidate for U. S. Senator by the Preus-for-Senator Club of Brainerd, Minn., for which the regular rate has been paid.

The President and His Party Need PREUS FOR SENATOR

WITH THE greatest pride in their candidate, the friends of Gov. J. A. O. Preus most respectfully solicit the support of the voters of Brainerd, Crow Wing county and the sovereign state of Minnesota. They believe that their choice is the logical successor to the lamented Knute Nelson, taking training, experience, ability and the welfare of the party into consideration. They also believe that Gov. Preus has many fine and essential qualities that should appeal to broad-minded men in other parties, or those liberal-minded men who are loosely held by all party considerations. Without invidious comparison of the large field of aspirants to the vacancy in the U. S. Senate, they ask and urge a most careful consideration of the merits of their choice.

IF EVER a man fitted himself to serve the people in public office, he is Gov. Preus. He began at Washington, under the plain, sound, sensible tutelage of the beloved Senator Nelson. Before that, he received a goodly measure of academic education. After that, he went through the experiences of a newly-fledged lawyer in a country practice. His gracious personality and abilities, natural and acquired, secured him a call to the noble capitol building. A clerical position was followed by service as state insurance commissioner. Next came election to the state auditorship by direct vote of the people. Now, after years of experience, polish and a steady ripening as chief executive of the sovereign state of Minnesota, comes the call from friends, citizens and party to don the toga so quickly and unexpectedly doffed by Knute Nelson.

DESPITE OPINION to the contrary, there is much sentiment, heart, good fellowship and human appreciation in politics. The deeply mourned Senator Nelson left a vacant place in Minnesota that will be hard to fill. It was the sturdy old Viking's fond hope that his protege, whom he loved and trusted as an only son, would take his place in the upper house of national legislation. He often expressed himself to that effect and, presumably, tentatively planned to that end. Then, in the twinkling of an eye, the Grim Reaper cut him down, leaving his work unfinished and making it the delicate duty of Gov. Preus to take such legal action as might be necessary to fill the vacancy.

DESPITE CRITICISM to the contrary, Gov. Preus has done his duty in the way that seemed right, proper and legal under the law. After having performed his official duty, if he seeks to step into the senatorial shoes of his friend and benefactor, to "carry on" in that grand old man's place, he is not over-stepping the rights of any reputable American citizen. If, in addition to undertaking to satisfy his natural and legitimate ambition to serve his fellow citizens in a higher position of state, Gov. Preus is backed and encouraged by the best elements in his party, then his cause is doubly strong and sure.

IT SEEMS unkind and even unfair to criticize Gov. Preus because the late Senator Nelson desired that his official toga fall on the shoulders of the younger man. That wise old statesman did not often err in his judgment of men. The fact that Gov. Preus was the elder statesman's choice as his successor, bears great weight with many of the very best republicans in the state, although it does not bind them personally or as a party. That is where the element of sentiment exercises an influence. In supporting Gov. Preus, they not only get behind a man highly fitted for higher office, but pay respect to a man who held the hearts as well as the votes of Minnesota republicans.

A BRIEF REVIEW of the life history of J. A. O. Preus may prove of deep interest to many who do not know him personally. This governor-candidate for U. S. senator was born Aug. 28, 1883, in Columbia county, Wis., at the old Spring Prairie parsonage. He is a splendid exemplification of the saying that "blood will tell." His paternal grandfather, Bishop Herman A. Preus, was prominent in church circles, being widely known as the organizer of the Norwegian Lutheran Synod of America, of which he was the head until his death in 1894. The father of Gov. Preus was Rev. Christian K. Preus who first became the president of Luther College at Decorah, Iowa. The mother of Gov. Preus was the eldest daughter of Rev. Ove J. Hjort, a minister for many years at Lansing, Iowa. She was a woman of education and culture, being a singer and pianist of note.

JACOB ALL OTTESEN PREUS, as this governor-candidate's name reads in full, had a year of schooling in Wisconsin and then continued his studies at Decorah, Iowa, where he eventually graduated from Luther College in 1903, at the age of twenty years. Turning his attention to the study of law, he graduated from the University of Minnesota law school in 1906. That fall, he went to Washington, D. C., as messenger to U. S. Senator Knute Nelson, to whom he finally became secretary and whom he served until 1909. That Washington experience was very valuable to the young lawyer.

RETURNING TO Minnesota, Mr. Preus opened a law office at Ada, Minn., but, soon afterwards, was summoned to St. Paul to serve Gov. Adolph O. Eberhart as executive secretary, with high satisfaction, until 1910. During the next four years, Mr. Preus served as state insurance commissioner. In 1914, he was elected state auditor and re-elected in 1918, in which office he made a splendid record. In 1920, Auditor Preus became Gov. Preus. As most voters know, he was re-elected governor last November.

J. A. O. PREUS

Today he asks the people of Minnesota to authorize his promotion from the office of chief executive of Minnesota, to U. S. senator in Washington. This is a truly American record, for Mr. Preus is not yet 40 years of age.

THE QUESTION arises as to why the people of Minnesota should relieve Mr. Preus of his contract to serve them two years more as governor. The reason that such action will be a tribute to the memory of Senator Nelson, a public servant who died in the service, already has been mentioned. No one knows better than Gov. Preus that this reason is based on sentiment, not any vested or hereditary right. He is too good an American to want office by request or hereditary descent.

A SECOND reason for electing Gov. Preus to the U. S. senate is the fact that the act would be highly acceptable to President Harding. The national administration cannot afford to lose more senators and all vacancies should be replaced by able party men who will be friendly to Mr. Harding's policies. If elected senator, Gov. Preus could be depended upon to pull steadily in the collar and not to fly the track and go on a stampede.

GOVERNOR PREUS is deeply interested in the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence River waterway to the sea. He has a great fund of information concerning the project and is closely in touch with affairs as they now stand between the United States and Canada. First as governor of Minnesota, a state adjoining Canada, and then as U. S. senator, Mr. Preus is in a position to accomplish great things in the international negotiations. While governor, he has had repeated conferences at various Canadian points, some of those conferences, by confidential favor of Pres. Harding, being semi-diplomatic in their character. None of the fourteen candidates for the senatorship seem as well qualified to further the deep waterway project as J. A. O. Preus.

IN HIS boyhood, Gov. Preus lived on a farm and learned what it meant to sow in hope and reap in despair. Years before he was a voter, he decided that national republican policies protected the farmer, hence he allied himself with the party of Lincoln, McKinley and Harding, rather than the party of Jefferson, Jackson, Cleveland and Wilson, with which close and dear kinsmen were affiliated. As a result of the lean and strenuous times on the farm, Gov. Preus feels a special interest in and sympathy for the farmer.

AS GOVERNOR, Preus has made special efforts to secure state legislation to benefit the Minnesota farmers and he could and would go further if sent to the U. S. senate. His program of constructive legislation has been carried out, with help of the legislature, until Minnesota has done more in less than three years under his administration to improve conditions than was done in the preceding quarter of a century.

UNDER THIS far-seeing executive, the state department of agriculture, headed by a practical farmer, has been enlarged and fortified by legislation and appropriations so that it has been able to study agricultural conditions scientifically and constructively, thereby helping the farmer solve his grave and perplexing problems.

GOVERNOR PREUS early saw that in co-operative marketing lay the main key to the solution of the farmer's problems as to disposing of the products of the soil and their toil. In two sessions of the legislature, since he became chief executive, action has been taken, so far as the law can meet the public need, to put co-operative marketing on a better basis than in almost any other state in the Union. Just now, Gov. Preus is doing his utmost to help devise a system for profitably storing and marketing the state potato crop, the method being based somewhat on that of the California fruit growers. Among other things sponsored by Gov. Preus for benefit of the farmer, must be mentioned the farm credits legislation. Minnesota farmers are intelligent; they read, study and compare notes; they know all the details of Gov. Preus' acts in behalf of those who till the soil and toil on the farm.

IT MAY BE that full appreciation of what Gov. Preus has done and tried to do for Minnesota must await another generation. Lest you forget, dear fellow citizen and voter, briefly recapitulate some of the reasons why he should be nominated and elected United States senator, viz:

FIRST—By temperament, character and training he is highly and exceptionally fitted to take up the work so suddenly laid down by Senator Nelson.

SECOND—His record as governor shows a fairness towards all interests, together with a constructive and progressive capacity, fully warranting the belief that he will serve Minnesota equally well, or even better, in the U. S. senate.

THIRD—Governor Preus' mastery of diplomacy and his winning personality assure the state that he will at once become associated with his colleagues in a way and to a degree that will enable him to accomplish what the state needs from its representatives in the upper house of national legislation.

FOURTH—The experience of J. A. O. Preus in Washington as secretary to and under the tutelage of Knute Nelson has given him a familiarity with conditions which will give him a great advantage over any other candidate in taking up the great work at the national capital.

FIFTH—As auditor and then governor of Minnesota, Mr. Preus has shown excellent judgment in the selection of men and women for important official positions. If the past really is a guide to the future, that ability will characterize his official acts in Washington.

SIXTH—It is vital to Minnesota that the deep waterway from the Great Lakes to the sea be opened, so that the farmers may add from eight to ten cents a bushel to the price they get for their grain, and proportionate increases to the prices to other of their products that are shipped to outside markets. Gov. Preus seems best fitted, of all the candidates, by character, training, ability and wide acquaintance to take up and carry to a conclusion the campaign for this project.

SEVENTH—The acceptability of Gov. Preus to Pres. Harding profitably can be emphasized by repetition. The Nation's Chief Magistrate and the leader of his party is looking to the republicans of Minnesota to sustain his hands by sending a senator to Washington, in place of the lamented Nelson, possessing the graces, abilities, accomplishments and party loyalty of J. A. O. Preus.

2 HURT, AUTO WRECKED, BURNED

Harrowing Midnight Experience of Mr. and Mrs. Henry LaGrandeau of Somerset, Wisconsin

ACCIDENT WAS AT CROW WING

Mr. LaGrandeau Makes a Heroic
Rescue of His Wife, Lifts Heavy
Car to Get Her Out

Two people injured and their car burned is the result of the second serious accident within the week, which occurred at midnight Friday night at the railroad crossing about a mile and a half south of Crow Wing.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry LaGrandeau, of Somerset, Wisconsin, were en route to Brainerd to visit his cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jonas, before proceeding to Hackensack for an outing. At Little Falls, the travelers inquired as to the condition of the roads to Brainerd, and were told that the highway was a little rough, but that there were no bad curves.

Everything went well until the sharp curve on the approach to the railroad crossing south of Crow Wing. Mr. LaGrandeau, states that the road appeared to extend straight ahead instead of turning, and the curve was not seen until too late to negotiate it successfully.

The car, a Studebaker special six, equipped with a California top, "jack-knifed" in attempting to make the sharp turn, and tipped over, pinning the two occupants underneath it. To add to the dilemma, the machine caught fire.

Mr. LaGrandeau was pinned under the front seat, but managed to release himself and broke the back window, crawling out through the flames which by that time had gained considerable headway. He hurried around the car, and with his shoulder under the running-board, raised the heavy machine up sufficiently to permit his wife to crawl out.

A passing automobile picked the injured couple up and started for Brainerd, but when within two miles of the city, the driver, in looking back to see how his passengers were faring, went into the ditch himself, without, however, tipping over or damaging his car.

He then went to a farm house nearby to telephone for aid, but the farmer refused to allow him to enter his home, so he went to a second farmer's home and telephoned for help. The injured people were finally rescued and arrived in Brainerd about three thirty Saturday morning, being taken directly to St. Joseph's hospital.

Mrs. LaGrandeau is the most severely injured, having a broken arm, and several bad cuts about her arms and face. It is said that the cords in one arm are severed.

Her husband received several burns in crawling out of his car through the flames. His knee is cut and his shoulder bruised.

The car is a total wreck, all of the camp equipment carried and all of the family's personal belongings burned. Mr. LaGrandeau's coat containing some money, in fact all of the couple's clothing which was not being worn at the time, was destroyed by the fire.

State Rural Credits Bureau Examines Lands of Farmers Asking
Loans

The state rural credits bureau has started the work of appraising the properties of those farmers who have applied for loans under the new rural credit law, passed at the last session of the legislature.

Men in different sections of the state, who are familiar with land values, have been appointed to handle this work, which it is estimated will consume a month or six weeks.

The appraising in the Brainerd district, which includes several counties bordering on Crow Wing, has been placed in the hands of D. D. Schrader. Mr. Schrader received his appointment as appraiser with the information that supplies for this work and a list of farms to be appraised will follow in a few days.

The bureau is anxious to have this work started as soon as possible, so that farmers in the state may have the benefit of the new law at an early date.

BUSINESS BUILDING LECTURE COURSE

Dr. F. Osten-Sacken, of Chicago

Dr. F. Osten-Sacken, official lecturer of the Sheldon School of Business science, in Chicago, has made arrangements with the local Business Men's Association to deliver a series of lectures on the fundamental principles of business building. This "Business Science Normal" course will consist of five lectures, at the rooms of the Brainerd Civic and Commerce Association, beginning on Monday evening, the 18th, at 8:00 o'clock and closing Friday evening, the 22nd.

To accommodate those who may be unable to attend the evening lectures, the doctor has consented to give a parallel course of lectures in the afternoon, at 3 o'clock, without additional charge. If a sufficient number to make it worth while will take advantage of this offer. The subscribers to this course of lectures are reminded that it will be to their advantage to see that their clerks will also attend.

Those who have not yet registered are requested to do so at once with A. L. Hoffman, the secretary of the Business Men's Association.

Five Days Spent in Washington
Devoted to Extensive Sight
Seeing

Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Carlson returned Friday night from Washington, D. C., where they attended the Imperial Council of the Shriners of America. They traveled with the Minneapolis Zurah Temple contingent on one of the longest passenger trains ever hauled over eastern roads.

The special train left Minneapolis on June 1st, four hours being spent in Chicago where the shriners of that city acted as hosts. The next stop was at Harpers Ferry, and the visitors arrived in Washington Sunday, June 3rd.

The Zurah Temple band and chanters were signally honored by being requested to play and sing at the Calvary Baptist church Sunday evening. President Harding attends this church and the Carlson's sat near him during the services.

Five days were spent in Washington, most of the time in sightseeing, the visitors being taken to all points of historical interest. On Friday the Zurah shriners left for Philadelphia, then to New York and Brooklyn, being entertained in each city by members of the fraternity. The Brooklyn temple acted as hosts to the visitors at an excursion to Coney Island.

Burlington, Vermont was the next stop, where a dinner was held in honor of the guests and a boat ride on Lake Champlain.

The return trip was made by way of Canada, Montreal, Toronto, London and Sarnia being visited, and in each city the travelers were royally entertained with banquets, automobile tours, etc.

At Sarnia the train was abandoned and the shriners took the boat "Harmonic" to Port Arthur, where the famous Kakabeca Falls was visited, then to Duluth, and home.

Mr. Carlson states that about 450,000 shriners were in attendance at Washington. Everywhere they were treated with every courtesy, and entertained in a manner fit for kings. The next imperial council will be held in Kansas City, in 1924.

26 HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS

Boys and Girls Are Under Leadership of Prof. C. V. Schofield

There will be a band concert in Gregory park Monday evening, June 18th, by Captain Kidd's Juvenile Band of Wahkon.

This band is composed of 26 high school boys and girls, under the leadership of Prof. C. V. Schofield, superintendent of the Wahkon schools. It was organized only last year, and has made such a successful showing that the village Commercial Club are giving them a two-weeks tour of the state.

Their visit to Brainerd on Monday evening, comes at a very opportune time, since this city has just organized a boys band of some thirty-five pieces, and a visit from a similar musical organization should do much to encourage the local players, and will show them what can be done in a short time with conscientious practice.

Obituary

Hans Haaker, passed away June 12th, 1923, at the age of 65 years. He was one of the oldest residents of Brainerd, coming to the city about 43 years ago from Norway, and has resided here ever since.

Deceased was born at Froudhjøn, Norway, November 1st, 1858. He was married in Brainerd about 35 years ago. To this union were born nine children, being Mrs. Anna Olson, Mrs. Eliza Wisotzkie, of Portland Ore., Hans and Magnhild in Norway, Maurice, Louis and Mrs. Eichel Rasmussen of Brainerd. Mrs. Haaker preceded her husband in death on September 27th, 1901.

Mr. Haaker was a man of kind disposition, one who had many friends. His health had been failing for many years. Friends and neighbors feel the loss of a good and helpful friend in the passing of this man. The funeral was held at 2:30 Friday afternoon from the Bethlehem Lutheran church, Rev. O. S. Winther officiating. Burial was made in the Vaala cemetery near South Long lake.

2 HURT, AUTO WRECKED, BURNED

Harrowing Midnight Experience of Mr. and Mrs. Henry LaGrandeau of Somerset, Wisconsin

ACCIDENT WAS AT CROW WING

Mr. LaGrandeau Makes a Heroic Rescue of His Wife, Lifts Heavy Car to Get Her Out

Two people injured and their car burned is the result of the second serious accident within the week, which occurred at midnight Friday night at the railroad crossing about a mile and a half south of Crow Wing.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry LaGrandeau, of Somerset, Wisconsin, were en route to Brainerd to visit his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Joncas, before proceeding to Hackensack for an outing. At Little Falls, the travelers inquired as to the condition of the roads to Brainerd, and were told that the highway was a little rough, but that there were no bad curves.

Everything went well until the sharp curve on the approach to the railroad crossing south of Crow Wing. Mr. LaGrandeau, states that the road appeared to extend straight ahead instead of turning, and the curve was not seen until too late to negotiate it successfully.

The car, a Studebaker special six, equipped with a California top, "jack-knifed" in attempting to make the sharp turn, and tipped over, pinning the two occupants underneath it. To add to the dilemma, the machine caught fire.

Mr. LaGrandeau was pinned under the front seat, but managed to release himself and broke the back window, crawling out through the flames which by that time had gained considerable headway. He hurried around the car, and with his shoulder under the running-board, raised the heavy machine up sufficiently to permit his wife to crawl out.

A TOUGH YEAR FOR CHAMPS, JIMMY!

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

Jimmy Wilde, the great, little welchman, may have it in mind when he goes into the ring this afternoon against Pancho Villa, the Filipino, that it has been a tough year for champions.

Villa may recall it, also as the former American flyweight champion was one of the several champions who joined the "formers" in the last twelve months.

Jack Britton, Harry Greb, Johnny Kilbane, Battling Siki, Carpenter, Johnny Buff and several European champions were removed from the list in one succession of big upsets.

Wilde is a veteran and he has no doubt slumped. He has been out of the ring since Pete Herman knocked him out, two years ago, and there are numerous examples to prove that fighters have to fight to keep themselves in shape.

When he was in form, Jimmy Wilde was a most efficient fighter. Many believe him to have been the greatest of all fighters at his weight. Perhaps he is yet, and if he knocks out Villa, he will prove it.

Villa has been beaten three times by Frankie Genaro, but he has never been knocked out. He is a great little fighter, and he will give Wilde more fight than the little Englishman has ever been called upon to take from an opponent of his own size and weight.

From the waist up, Wilde is a bantamweight. He has big shoulders and unusual arms for a little fellow. He has a good wallop and, like all the English boxers, he is clever.

Villa has an opportunity to put the fight lawyers to work figuring out the situation if he should beat Wilde and win the title.

Villa would be the world's flyweight champion and a fighter who stands on the books second to Frankie Genaro, the American champion.

The only way to settle the argument would be to match Villa and Genaro again, but Pancho would hardly take any chances on his world's title. Genaro should have had the first crack at Wilde, but he is not a colorful fighter like Villa and is no "card."

"Cards" draw the customers and make the money for the promoters.

Today's venture is the second made in fight promotion by Charles A. Stoneham, owner of the Giants. And it may be the last. The Kilbane-Criqui fight cost Stoneham $50,000, and there was no wild excitement preceding this fight.

PAY BY MIDNIGHT OR SHELBY FIGHT IS OFF, SAYS KEARNS

Great Falls, Mont., June 16—Jack Kearns, manager of Champion Jack Dempsey, served notice on the Shelby promoters yesterday that unless the $100,000 due Dempsey was paid before 12 o'clock last night he would consider the fight off. Kearns said he had an offer from Cleveland for the match. The bankers' committee, in the meantime, continued its attempt to untangle the financial situation and save the show.

Shelby Digs Down to Cover Guarantee

(By United Press)
Shelby, Mont., June 16—Citizens of Shelby dug down in their pockets last night and—according to an announcement made today—found $100,000 with which to make the second payment of the guarantee to Jack Dempsey, and save the Dempsey-Gibbons heavyweight championship fight from being abandoned for lack of funds. Oil men, bankers and other citizens who had dug down heavily when the fight was just a dream went into their purses again to keep the dream from being shattered.

Mike Collins, matchmaker of the bout, said the necessary sum had been raised and that he would take the $100,000 to Great Falls today and hand it to Jack Kearns, the champion's manager.

TWELVE ROUNDS OF CONVERSATION

(Copyright 1923 by United Press)
Great Falls, Mont., June 14—Jack Dempsey sat on the steps of his roadhouse training home here and started twelve rounds of conversation.

In the cooling shade of trees that fringe the narrow Missouri river he unloaded a barrage of words, revealing the true Jack Dempsey.

"Quite a place I have here, eh? Used to be a roadhouse in the old days. Don't those little beer houses look lonesome down there on the river bank? Too bad those days are gone. Used to like it—don't hurt a fellow any."

"See my new wolf pup and the prize bull I bought? That's Jerry down there. Good dog. Remember him from Atlantic City?"

After this verbal barrage Dempsey became the interviewer, ordering full details about Shelby.

"So it's hot up there? Well, I suppose it is, but it's been fine here. That river brings a lot of breeze. Maybe it would be better if it got a little hotter here. I don't like to work in tightness."

ALL STAR BASEBALL TEAM IS ORGANIZED

An all-star baseball team has been organized at the local Northern Pacific shops, and the first game will be played at Pine River on Sunday afternoon, being called for two o'clock.

The officers of the new organization are as follows:
Manager—J. F. Elkins.
Ass't manager—C. Brown.
Captain—C. Bowerman.
Secretary-treasurer—J. P. Anderson.

All clubs wishing a game with this team are asked to communicate with Manager Elkins. St. Paul, St. Cloud and Little Falls have already asked for games.

Professional uniforms have been purchased, and the team will have a "dress practice," on Saturday afternoon at the Keoring grounds.

Tree Is a Bridge.

The greatest wonder of the Petrified forest is the agate bridge. This is a huge tree trunk, 100 feet long, spanning a 60-foot chasm, says Nature Magazine. The entire tree is made up of agates, jaspers, chalcedony, and other highly colored and handsome stones. In the canyon directly below the agate bridge is a pool of water, and around it grow the only trees in the whole country.

PITCHERS MAKING IT HARD FOR BABE RUTH TO STRUT HIS STUFF

New York, June 15—Babe Ruth, far behind in his home run schedule, is worrying big league pitchers more this year than ever before.

The Babe, more serious than ever and in the best condition of his career, is hitting the ball when it means a run. He is leading the league in run producing.

As a result Ruth has created what sports experts believe to be a new record for free passes. He has received 64 in his first 50 games. In 1920 he set the major league record with 148 free tickets, but with this season only one-third over he has reached nearly half that total.

The free passes have been distributed by the seven opposing teams this year in this fashion:

Washington 18, Boston 12, Cleveland 11, Philadelphia 11, Chicago 7, Detroit 3, St. Louis 3.

GIBBONS TO POKE DEMPSEY'S BAD EYE

Shelby, Mont., June 15—Jack Dempsey's left eye will be a target for the sharp-shooting left hand of Tom Gibbons here July Fourth in the Shelby shell.

The champion lay idle from boxing for several days following the cut he received over his optic at the hands of Rocco Stramaglia a sparring partner.

The cut is healing but there is an ugly scar left to tell the story. Dempsey's skin cuts very easily anyway.

It is practically a cinch that Gibbons will play for the bad eye and lay it open early in the fight.

The wound is too deep for it to heal between now and the day of the big battle.

It is the same old cut that has opened before and caused him a lot of worry. It was first gashed at Toledo in 1919. It was also split again before the last Brennan battle.

Every precaution will be taken by the Dempsey camp to protect the injured spot. This means that the champion's sparring partners will have to ease up from now on.

Gibbons is just the kind of boxing-fighter to cut Dempsey's sharp-boned eye sockets even though they were in good shape to start with. With the old wound re-opened there is sure trouble ahead for the champion.

Guarding the champion of the world is a job in itself.

When he defends his title, condition means really more to him than it does to the contender.

The title is where the big money comes from.

One punch will win or lose it. Should Gibbons plaster his lightning left to the eye at the takeoff he would have an extra ace in the hole.

No fighter in the world can keep away from the Gibbons' mitten. And Dempsey will be no exception.

In all his fights he has been hit—and sometimes hurt.

The Gibbons' board, of strategy says nothing, but their minds are working overtime.

Student "Bootlegs" Way Through College Selling News, Clothes

Fargo, N. D., June 16.—M. E. Latimer, who jocularly speaks of his method as "bootlegging your way through college," is a senior in the civil engineering class at the North Dakota Agricultural college who worked his way from the start to the finish, and yet found time for a vigorous and successful participation in sports.

He served as correspondent for papers, sold confections, took orders for clothes from students, ran a commissary and engaged in other pursuits to accumulate the necessary funds.

"I have never been broke and never had to borrow a penny from anyone," said Latimer. "I made my own plans for obtaining money and carried them out, that's all."

Everything connected with the sun is staggeringly big. Those little dark sun-spots which you peer at cautiously through the medium of a smoked glass are, most of them, many thousands of miles across. One was measured and found to have a diameter of 13,000 miles—which means that the earth could have been pitched into it like a golf ball into a pool of water.

QUART OF WATER A DAY HELPS KIDNEYS

When Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers, Also Take a Little Salts

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about your ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Adv.

A TOUGH YEAR FOR CHAMPS, JIMMY!

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

Jimmy Wilde, the great, little Welchman, may have it in mind when he goes into the ring this afternoon against Pancho Villa, the Filipino, that it has been a tough year on champions.

Villa may recall it, also as the former American flyweight champion was one of the several champions who joined the "formers" in the last twelve months.

Jack Britton, Harry Greb, Johnny Kilbane, Battling Siki, Carpentier, Johnny Buff and several European champions were removed from the list in one succession of big upsets.

Wilde is a veteran and he has no doubt slumped. He has been out of the ring since Pete Herman knocked him out, two years ago, and there are numerous examples to prove that fighters have to fight to keep themselves in shape.

When he was in form, Jimmy Wilde was a most efficient fighter. Many believe him to have been the greatest of all fighters at his weight. Perhaps he is yet, and if he knocks out Villa, he will prove it.

Villa has been beaten three times by Frankie Genaro, but he has never been knocked out. He is a great little fighter, and he will give Wilde more fight than the little Englishman has ever been called upon to take from an opponent of his own size and weight.

From the waist up, Wilde is a bantamweight. He has big shoulders and unusual arms for a little fellow. He has a good wallop and, like all the English boxers, he is clever.

Villa has an opportunity to put the fight lawyers to work figuring out the situation if he should beat Wilde and win the title.

Villa would be the world's flyweight champion and a fighter who stands on the books second to Frankie Genaro, the American champion.

The only way to settle the argument would be to match Villa and Genaro again, but Pancho would hardly take any chances on his world's title.

Genaro should have had the first crack at Wilde, but he is not a colorful fighter like Villa and is no "card."

"Cards" draw the customers and make the money for the promoters.

Today's venture is the second made in fight promotion by Charles A. Stoneham, owner of the Giants. And it may be the last. The Kilbane-Craig fight cost Stoneham $50,000, and there was no wild excitement preceding this fight.

PAY BY MIDNIGHT OR SHELBY FIGHT IS OFF, SAYS KEARNS

Great Falls, Mont., June 16—Jack Kearns, manager of Champion Jack Dempsey, served notice on the Shelby promoters yesterday that unless the $100,000 due Dempsey was paid before 12 o'clock last night he would consider the fight off. Kearns said he had an offer from Cleveland for the match. The bankers' committee, in the meantime, continued its attempt to untangle the financial situation and save the show.

Shelby Digs Down to Cover Guarantee

(By United Press)
Shelby, Mont., June 16—Citizens of Shelby dug down in their pockets last night and—according to an announcement made today—found $100,000 with which to make the second payment of the guarantee to Jack Dempsey, and save the Dempsey-Gibbons heavyweight championship fight from being abandoned for lack of funds. Oil men, bankers and other citizens who had dug down heavily when the fight was just a dream went into their purses again to keep the dream from being shattered.

Mike Collins, matchmaker of the bout, said the necessary sum had been raised and that he would take the $100,000 to Great Falls today and hand it to Jack Kearns, the champion's manager.

TWELVE ROUNDS OF CONVERSATION

(Copyright 1923 by United Press)
Great Falls, Mont., June 16—Jack Dempsey sat on the steps of his roadhouse training home here and starred twelve rounds of conversation.

In the cooling shade of trees that fringe the narrow Missouri river he unloaded a barrage of words, revealing the true Jack Dempsey.

"Quite a place I have here, eh? Used to be a roadhouse in the old days. Don't those little beer houses look lonesome down there on the river bank? Too bad those days are gone. Used to like it—don't hurt a fellow any."

"See my new wolf pup and the prize bull I bought? That's Jerry down there. Good dog. Remember him from Atlantic City?"

After this verbal barrage Dempsey became the interviewer, ordering full details about Shelby.

"So it's hot up there? Well, I suppose it is, but it's been fine here. That river brings a lot of breeze. Maybe it would be better if it got a little hotter here. I don't like to work in tight."

Shelby, Mont., June 15—Jack Dempsey's left eye will be a target for the sharp-shooting left hand of Tom Gibbons here July Fourth in the Shelby shell.

The champion lay idle from boxing for several days following the cut he received over his optic at the hands of Rocco Stramaglia a sparring partner.

The cut is healing but there is an ugly scar left to tell the story. Dempsey's skin cuts very easily anyway.

It is practically a cinch that Gibbons will play for the bad eye and lay it open early in the fight.

The wound is too deep for it to heal between now and the day of the big battle.

It is the same old cut that has opened before and caused him a lot of worry. It was first gashed at Toledo in 1919. It was also split again before the last Brennan battle.

Every precaution will be taken by the Dempsey camp to protect the injured spot. This means that the champion's sparring partners will have to ease up from now on.

Gibbons is just the kind of boxing-fighter to cut Dempsey's sharp-boned eye sockets even though they were in good shape to start with.

With the old wound re-opened there is sure trouble ahead for the champion.

Guarding the champion of the world is a job in itself.

When he defends his title, condition means really more to him than it does to the contender.

The title is where the big money comes from.

One punch will win or lose it. Should Gibbons plaster his lightning left to the eye at the takeoff he would have an extra ace in the hole.

No fighter in the world can keep away from the Gibbons' mitten. And Dempsey will be no exception.

In all his fights he has been hit—and sometimes hurt.

The Gibbons' board, of strategy says nothing, but their minds are working overtime.

Student "Bootlegs" Way Through College Selling News, Clothes

Fargo, N. D., June 16—M. E. Latimer, who jocularly speaks of his method as "bootlegging your way through college," is a senior in the civil engineering class at the North Dakota Agricultural college who worked his way from the start to the finish, and yet found time for a vigorous and successful participation in sports.

He served as correspondent for papers, sold confections, took orders for clothes from students, ran a commissary and engaged in other pursuits to accumulate the necessary funds.

"I have never been broke and never had to borrow a penny from anyone," said Latimer. "I made my own plans for obtaining money and carried them out, that's all."

Monster Planet.

Everything connected with the sun is staggeringly big. Those little dark sun-spots which you peer at cautiously through the medium of a smoked glass are, most of them, many thousands of miles across. One was measured and found to have a diameter of 13,000 miles—which means that the earth could have been pitched into it like a golf ball into a pall of water.

QUART OF WATER A DAY HELPS KIDNEYS

When Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers, Also Take a Little Salts

Eating too much rich food may produce kidney trouble in some form, says a well-known authority, because the acids created excite the kidneys. Then they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region, rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, begin drinking lots of good water and also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity; also to neutralize the acids in the system so that they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Adv't.
